Numb. 7224.

Thursday, December 10. 1724.

Constantinople, October 29.

ON the 17th Instant Viscount Andreuel, the new French Ambassadour, had his publick Audience of the Grand Signior, with the usual Ceremonies. On the 24th the Marquess de Bonac had likewise an Audience of the Sultan, wherein he delivered the King his Master's Answer to the Letter of Thanks the Sultan has sent to his most Christian Majesty for having so effectually interposed his Mediation between the Porte and his Czarish Majesty. 'Tis said that this Marquess, who had already taken his Leave of all the foreign Ministers, and made all necessary Preparations for his Return to France, has received Orders from his Court to stay here three Months longer, which makes some think that several important Affairs are upon the Carpet, in which this Minister may act jointly with Viscount Andreuel. The Rejoycings which began the 20th Instant, for the taking of the City of Erivan, continue still, and it is not known when the Porte will think fit to put an End to them. Those the Grand Visier has ordered, exceed by much what has been done for the surrendring of Hamadan, by Reason of the Strength and great Importance of Erivan, which is the Capital of a large Province, and Part of the ancient Great Armenia. Fireworks have been let off for some Days together in several Parts of the City, all the Houses whereof were illuminated, and more conspicuously those of the Foreign Ministers. All our Men of War and Gallies have every Day made a triple Discharge of their Cannon, as did likewise the two French Men of War who brought hither M. Andreuel: In short the Demonstrations of Joy for this important Conquest are not to be expressed.

Petersburg, Nov. 14. The Duke of Holstein being recovered from his late Indisposition, appears again in Publick. M. de Bassewitz, his Privy Councellour, is gone to take a View of the Lands about Nerva, which our Emperour has given to that Prince; and 'tis thought that after his Return he will be sent into Germany. 'Tis now given out, that the Court's Journey for Moscow is fixed to the Beginning of next Year, though no great Stress is to be laid upon publick Reports. Prince Repnin, Governour of Riga, has been preferred to the Post of Field Marshal. Prince Menzikoff is shortly expected here from his Country Seat.

Rome, Nov. 18. The late Commissioner Vignoli having by Will left all his Estate to the Fryers of Trinity des Monts, on Condition of paying only three Crowns a Month to his Nephew, the Pope seeing the Unreasonableness of this Will, has reversed the Disposition of it, by putting the Nephew in Possession of his Uncle's Estate, paying only three Crowns a Month to the Fryers. The whole City has been filled with Joy upon the News that Cardinal de Noailles has at length accepted the Bull Unigenitus in the same Sense as the Pope himself did when he was Archbishop of Benevento; and that the Procurator General of the Congregation of St. Maur in France has also accepted the said Bull in the like Manner.

Vienna, Nov. 25. On the 22d Instant, the Emperour, accompanied by the Hereditary Prince of Lorrain, took the Diversion of hunting the wild Boar near Orth. Yesterday a Council of State was held. The 22d, the Day of the Empress's Festival, his Imperial Majesty made her a Present of four Brilliants of an extraordinary Bigness, together with a Pocket-Mirror set with Diamonds. The Envoy from Tripoly, who is allowed 30 Rixdollars a Day for his Maintenance, besides his Lodgings, and other Conveniencies, goes to all the publick Assemblies, and often visits the Nobility; they are very well satisfied with his Conduct, and the Emperour intends to admit him in a few Days to an Audience. The Opera of Tamerlane, which is now upon the Stage, is one of the finest that has been seen here for many Years past: The Minister of Tripoly who saw it, was highly pleased to see such a pompous Show, which so naturally represents the Eastern Manners and Customs. This Minister having heard that a Moor nearly related to him was in Prince Eugene's Service, who took him Prisoner in the last War against the Turks, desired the Prince to grant him his Liberty; upon which his Highness sent him the said Moor, magnificently dress'd after the Turkish Manner; which so well pleased the said Envoy, that he assured Prince Eugene, that he will thankfully acknowledge the Favour.

Hamburg, Dec. 8. They write from Copenhagen, that on the 27th past, M. Buys, the States Envoy Extraordinary, had provisionally taken his Audiences of Leave of their Danish Majesties, as also of their Royal Highnesses, in order to return to Holland, to give the States General an Account of his Negociations. Private Advices from Poland contradict what has been spread abroad, that the Emperour of Russia had made a Demand of several Millions upon the Crown of Poland, and that his Minister had laid Claim to the Dutchy of Courland. On the contrary, we are informed, that it is the Crown of Poland which makes Pretensions upon the Czar. The Vice-Chancellour of Poland has been charged by the Senate to make a Compliment to Count Wratislaw, upon the Necessity they lie under to refer the Examination of his Propositions to the next Dyet; after which, the said Chancellour is to make the same Excuse to the Russian and Prussian Ministers. These two latter have applied to the King of Poland to obtain a Mitigation of the Decree against the City of Thorn; the Prussian Minister especially is charged by the King his Master to get the Execution of that Decree suspended: Mean while, the Troops appointed to suppost that Execution, were ordered to be before Thorn the 6th Instant, upon which Day the great Lutheran Church was to be [illegible] the Execution itself was fixed to the 15th ensuing; but 'tis said that the Court and the Senate cannot agree upon some Alterations proposed to be made relating thereto. 'Tis moreover assured, that no body will accept and perform the Office of Commissary for that Execution; and should that Decree be executed with Rigour, 'tis to be feared that some bloody Catastrophe will attend this horrid Scene.
